4. Justice

a) Judicial reform

Apart from the above two issues, judicial e-Government (e-justice), mediation and out of court settlements, judicial statistics, the acceleration and rationalization of civil and administrative proceedings and the streamlining of the process concerning judicial stamps and administration fees belong to this section.

In the discussions so far on these issues there were no substantial disagreements as we as well recognize the issues as systemic problems of the Greek justice system.

The technical teams requested at the last meeting/video conference to submit to them notes with the areas of action and a timetable of activities.

In particular:

aa) E-justice

There are programmes under way and commitments primarily through the NSRF which are updated at regular intervals. The services of the Ministry of Justice have already prepared a multipage action plan in Greek, which will be sent tomorrow along with the other notes to the technical teams.

bb) Mediation and out of court settlement

The institution and its importance have already been accepted by the political leadership of the Ministry, while a parallel diversification and simplification of the existing procedures had a positive response from the technical teams. For this purpose we intend to have set up a Working Group by the end of May with the participation of members from the three legislative committees (Code of Civil Procedure, Bankruptcy, Mediation). This Group will consider the possibility of implementing the institution from 2016 onwards as a procedure prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, with an optional or potential character for commercial disputes and in order to propose solutions so as to better integrate the institution in the Greek legal system.

cc) Judicial Statistics

In addition to technical support via programmes which is expected to improve data collection for Justice, there are already on the Ministry's website statistics posted quarterly, which the teams of the Institutions use.

dd) Rationalization of civil and administrative proceedings

We are working on concrete proposals and solutions that combined are projected to accelerate justice administration. A Working Group will be established concerning the reform of the Administrative Procedure Code, as well as a Group re direct legal provisions and the amendment of the Courts Organization.

ee) Streamlining of the process concerning judicial stamps and administration fees

Concerning court fees, we will try to reduce the excessive amounts in order to allow for greater access to justice, especially for lower income groups and to exam the rationalization of the payments, and with the distinction of whether they concern property disputes or not.

Furthermore, we will seek ways to ensure transparency of the sums paid by the parties.

Regarding civil proceedings there will be a discussion in the special legislative committee of the Code of Civil Procedure and we will seek to reduce revenues by rationalizing court fees by imposing a specially increased fee on the cases of postponements so as to limit them and thus speed up the trial.

Regarding the administrative proceedings, this issue will be discussed within the working group/legislative committees for the reform of the Judicial Procedure Code.

For the above topics [e-justice, mediation and out of court settlements, judicial statistics, speeding up and rationalizing civil and administrative proceedings] an 18 month programme of technical support will be implemented with funds from the European Commission (TASK FORCE) in cooperation with Austria's Ministry of Justice.

b) Civil Procedure Code - Bankruptcy Code

The Civil Procedure Code will be revised with the special Committee of the Ministry of Justice based on the "Chamilothori Plan", with interventions in its chapters:

- aa) Procedures in first instance courts
- bb) Special procedures
- cc) Obligatory enforcement

Article 977 provision of the Civil Procedure Code which regulates the ranking of creditors will be amended. From the requirements described in the provision of Article 975, those that are based on providing employment and the proportional insurance contributions will be executed preferentially (excluding compensations). Of the remaining amount, the tangibly insured (mortgage) creditors will be proportionally served at 70% and the remaining (non-tangible mortgages) and non-privileged ones at 30%.

The work of the Legislative Committee on integrating the Bankruptcy Law of the Recommendation of the European Commission from March 2014 will continue beyond 31.3.2015 so as to fully adapt Greek law to international practices and the European Institutions.

The new Civil Procedure Code will be completed and will be ratified by and will be implemented on

The new Bankruptcy Code will be completed by October 2015 and provisions related to other regulations of this will be completed and will be incorporated into the law by The new bankruptcy code will include the amendment of Article 99.

gg) Telecommunications – Crossover Rights

1. We planned to introduce further simplifications, on an ad-hoc basis, in order to facilitate and expedite the implementation of on-going broadband infrastructure projects. In particular, a fast-track procedure has been applied for obtaining rights of way for the MAN project, and legislative provisions aiming to simplify administrative procedures for the ongoing Rural Broadband project were considered. Our analysis concluded that it will be preferable to follow an alternative “fast-track” procedure, which is already on-going.

2. We elaborate on further amending the current legislative framework, towards addressing the problems that have been identified; this task is carried out in parallel with the work for adopting Directive 2014/61/EU (BB Cost Reduction). To this end, an inter-ministerial committee has been set up that carries out impact analysis and assessment and will propose the appropriate legislative, regulatory and/or other administrative provisions necessary to comply with the Directive. Preliminary findings of the impact assessment show that, due to the very low cost for mini-trenching digging (ITU L-48) in Greece, limited results are to be expected. Specific areas with higher impact are: a. intra-telecom sector re-use (particularly in metro areas for fiber and ducts), b. submarine power cables (fiber connecting islands) and c. highways’ infrastructure (fiber as alternative routes for backhauling, closing fiber “rings”). Item (a) has been tackled in 5 below (Decision No. 750/7/17.02.2015). Items (b) and (c) will be priority focus for the inter-ministerial committee expected to conclude to recommendations by end August. Drafting and consultation by end October. Official Bill by end December. Further specific actions include:

CHAPTER C

Debt Restructuring, Financing and servicing 2015-2022

1) New agreement 7/2015 – 31/3/2016

a) ECB

By 30.06.2015, following negotiations between the Commission, the ECB and the ESM, the optimal legal and economic solution will be reached concerning the repayment of the Greek bonds which are in the possession of the ECB, with refinancing from the ESM.

This solution must take into account the respect for the ECB's rules, the refinancing for the acquisition at the level of the actual value/or the return to Greece of the profits as long as the refinancing occurs at the nominal value, as well as the inclusion of the amount of refinancing in the existing loan between the ESM and Greece regarding the conditions of its repayment.

b) IMF

Greece's debt to the IMF will be restructured in order to repay the total amount due in two phases, one by 30.6.2015 and another in accordance with a subsequent refinancing of the country's public debt. During the period 7/2015- 31/03/2016 an amount equal to about 50% of the currently existing debit balance will be paid and the balance on the basis of an agreement which will include the repayment gradually or in installments following Greece's choice on the matter.

To this end talks will be held immediately between Greece, the ESM, the IMF and the Commission in order to have the choice of the optimal method in technical terms for the implementation of the agreement under the rules of the IMF and the ESM.

When paying in advance any amount to the IMF no clause will be activated by the ESM concerning payments to the ESM, or any other burdensome clause for Greece which is included in the MFAFA.

c) Financing of the Debt

The above restructurings of Greece's public debt, combined with the successful implementation of the agreed fiscal policy, are designed to create the appropriate conditions so that from 31/3/2016 or earlier, the refinancing of Greece's public debt can be conducted through the markets and to achieve a remodeling, in the framework of these agreements, of the regulations and procedures for monitoring the agreement between Greece-ESM and Greece-IMF by the instruments provided by the institutions and the Treaties.

d) Quantitative easing

Moreover by the repayment of the Greek bonds which today are in the possession of the ECB, Greece is setting up the conditions for its participation in the quantitative easing programme of the ECB, which will be an important aspect of growth and sustainable development of the country's GDP.

e) Financing of growth programme

In order for Greece to achieve the intended, as per the agreement, growth rates with the support of the European Institutions, the Commission will immediately begin discussions with the Greek Authorities to establish a framework of financing a growth programme and policies, which will be funded (in addition to those programs already being implemented) by the Commission and the E.I.B., for the period 2016-2021. The agreement re the growth programme, the amount of financing, the terms and conditions as well as the eligible bodies will have been completed and approved by the competent bodies as soon as possible.

Transitional provision

The terms of this agreement following its being signed and being enacted are applied as defined per the specific arrangements. Any contrary agreement, memorandum or other written commitment by the parties is repealed.

The legal provisions set out in this agreement will be incorporated in the existing law and any contrary provision of law, P.D, MD or other regulatory act will be repealed.

All the annexes relating to the financial forecasts for the period 2015-2018, Annex Law 4263/2014 will be reviewed on the basis of the fiscal and microeconomic assumptions of Ch. A of this agreement and following their review they will replace the Annex of the above law.

The amendment of this agreement can occur in writing and any amendment will be incorporated into this text and will be codified so that it will represent the only agreement governing thereafter the relations between the Hellenic Republic and the institutions, regarding its loan relations and the arrangements governing the member countries of the European Union and the eurozone.
